DETAILED ACTION

Election

1. The election filed 10/16/06 is acknowledged. Claims 1-7 are examined.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 6, line 11, "a wire press-contacting portion" should be --the wire press-contacting portion--; and line 16, "the press-contacting blades" lacks an antecedent basis.

Claim 7, lines 7 and 8, "the inner face" lacks an antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1 and 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Genz et al. (6,312,288).

Regarding claims 1 and 6, Genz et al., figures 1 and 3 show a connector (14) comprising:

- a plurality of terminals (54);

Art Unit: 2839

- a connector housing (14) receiving the terminals, each of the terminals including:
- a terminal connecting portion (58) having a tubular shape and receiving a mating terminal (30);
- a wire press-contacting portion (56) including a press-contacting blade (60) for press-contacting a wire, and the press-contacting blade having a blade width larger than a width of the terminal connecting portion; and
- an interconnecting portion (96, figure 3) connecting the terminal connection portion and the wire press-contacting portion, wherein a press-contacting portion direction in which the wire is press-contacted with the wire press-contacting portion is parallel to a terminal fitting direction of the terminal connecting portion; and wherein the terminal connecting portion of the terminals are received in the connector housing in parallel so that the press-contacting blades are arranged in a staggered manner.

Regarding claim 4, the press-contacting blade is formed by a flat plate having a groove (64, figure 3) that the wire is press-contacted.

Regarding claim 5, the wire press-contacting portion is spaced a prescribed distance from the terminal connecting portion in a direction perpendicular to the press-contacting direction.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 2-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Genz et al. (6,312,288) in view of JP 2-115257U.

Genz et al. disclose the claimed invention as described above except for a press-contacting face abuts against an inner wall of a connector housing.

JP 2-115257U, figure 1 shows a press-contact terminal (21) having a press-contacting face (27) abuts against an inner wall of a housing (23). It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide Genz et al. to have the structure of the terminal and the housing, as taught by JP 2-115257U, in order to have more security between the terminal and the housing.

Regarding claim 3, it is noted that JP 2-115257U shows the press-contact receiving face is formed at a rear side of the press-contacting blade.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2839

8. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The claim is allowable over the prior art of record for at least the reason that the prior art fails to teach or suggest a support jig for receiving the press-contacting force through the inner wall of the connector housing, as set forth in the claimed combination.

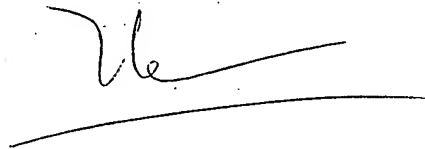

9. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
